The Earthbroker Magazine marks a significant milestone this year as it celebrates its 20th anniversary. What began in 2004 as a humble eight-page newspaper, entrusted to Frans and Brenda De Wet, has evolved into a thriving publication that stands as a testament to dedication and vision.

When Brenda assumed ownership of the magazine, she embraced it as her own, nurturing its growth alongside Janine Sargeant, who spearheaded sales and deadlines, and Dylan, the talented graphic artist integral to the magazine's visual appeal. Navigating uncharted waters, the team encountered numerous challenges, yet their unwavering determination transformed Earthbroker from a newspaper into a magazine by 2007. From its modest beginnings, the publication blossomed into a 100-page powerhouse, attracting top brands within the industry to advertise within its pages.

Tragically, Brenda's passing in 2014 marked a pivotal moment for Earthbroker. Janine stepped forward, acquiring the magazine and steering it towards even greater success. Under her leadership, and Dylan's professional design, the Earthbroker Magazine emerged as one of the foremost magazines in earthmoving industry within South Africa.

For two decades, Janine and Dylan have been the faces of Earthbroker, offering clients unparalleled personal service. Their dedication to the magazine is evident in every issue, with Dylan's work as a graphic artist, and Janine's managerial acumen guiding the company forward.

We extend our deepest gratitude to all our advertisers and supporters who have played a pivotal role in Earthbroker's journey. Your unwavering support has been instrumental in shaping the magazine into the success it is today.

Thank you for twenty remarkable years, and here's to many more ahead.

Astec Telestack HF 520 track mounted fully mobile conveyor

BOOSTING PRODUCTION AND LOWERING COSTS WITH HIGH SPEC HOPPER FEEDERS

A significant order for Astec Telestack tracked hopper feeders has been awarded to Astec Industries, reflecting growing demand in South Africa for this safe, heavy duty, cost effective, fuel-efficient and highly mobile range of hopper feeders.

An Astec Telestack HF 520 unit will be used in a load out application by a customer in the Northern Cape, explains Astec regional product and sales manager Andre Kruger. The HF 520 is a track mounted fully mobile conveyor. Like all of the stacking equipment in Astec's tracked hopper feeder range, it is designed to be loaded directly from wheel loaders, grab cranes and excavators. This means that the same piece of equipment can be used to stockpile material; feed auxiliary equipment or fixed equipment; reclaim onto overland conveyors; or load barges, vessels and rail wagons directly from wheel loaders or grab cranes. Since the hopper feeder is track mounted, the unit has excellent mobility on site and will eliminate the need for Astec's customer to double handle material, Kruger explains. This translates into reduced overall costs, he states. "Our customer recognised this outstanding machine's potential to lower operating and fuel costs by up to 50%. In today's tough economic climate, these are substantial savings. But while offering cost savings, the HF 520 does not compromise on safety, quality and performance. It is a high specification machine designed for ease of maintenance and maximum production."

Better safety and lower operating costs

Kruger explains that the HF 520's reduced loading and tramming further contribute to improved safety and lower operating costs. "Eliminating the need to stockpile with a wheel loader enhances safety and increases production." The HF 520's hydraulic folding head section allows for compact road transportation, and it can be packed into 12m containers for easy, cost effective transport around the globe. Ireland-based Astec Telestack has been part of the Astec Industries portfolio since it was acquired by the group in 2014. Astec Telestack equipment is currently improving the productivity in South African operations ranging from warehouses, rail yards, ports, mines and quarries, Kruger notes. "Astec Telestack is an exceptional brand with a well-earned global reputation for safety quality and productivity. We at Astec Industries' regional business unit serving Africa and the Middle East are excited to continue growing the brand's footprint and enhancing aftermarket support for Astec's Telestack range of products in South Africa. Understanding the differing needs of each sector and designing the unit to suit the application is fundamental to the Astec Telestack design. Whether it is in a quarry, port, recycling, reclaiming or mining application, Astec Telestack has a hopper feeder range easily customised to suit most applications and the required target throughput," he says.

Revolution series is the latest Astec Telestack innovation

Kruger reveals that other Astec Telestack products that are making their mark in South Africa are the Revolution series, tracked conveyors and radial telescopic stackers. "The Revolution series is the latest innovation from Astec Telestack. This is a range of hopper feeders with a centre mounted slew bearing that enables 360-degree rotation and movement of the hopper, to maximise its mobility on site. The Revolution series' ultimate flexibility makes it the ideal hopper feeder for barge and rail wagon loading and unloading and for stockpiling. As the equipment is able to travel parallel to the vessel, safety, loading rates and operational efficiency are improved.

Tracked conveyors

Kruger outlines the unique features and benefits of Astec Telestack tracked conveyors and radial telescopic stackers: "As mobile crushers and screens constantly increase throughputs, a challenge is the transport restrictions on their size and length to cope with higher tonnages. Track conveyors fulfil this need by providing much larger stockpile capacity. At the same time, they improve plant mobility by removing material from the processing plant. The Astec Telestack TC 624R is a track mounted fully mobile radial conveyor designed to work at production rates of up to 600tph.

Radial Telescopic Stacker

"Astec Telestack's TS 36 140 AggStack Radial Telescopic Stacker offers a unique material handling solution for the quarrying, mining and rail industries. It is also used in ports and inland terminals to load and unload ships, barges and stockyard management. The radial, telescopic and luffing features allow the operator to have full control when stockpiling a range of materials, thereby eliminating segregation, degradation, contamination and the compaction of material. The unit's innovative design provides for a stockpile capacity that is up to 30% larger than that of conventional fixed length conveyor systems." Astec Industries' Johannesburg-based regional business unit for Africa and the Middle East offers the full range of Astec Telestack products.
